Consulting Coaching Valuations Negotiations Purchase/Sale

BUSINESS COACHING

After thirty years of being an accountant and consultant to the veterinary industry, it quite clear, veterinarians want to deliver the very best in veterinary medicine and “business” gets in the way! Let’s face it,

You didn’t start off going to business school and end up being a veterinarian.

A common complaint of veterinarians is that, after all the time spent in school, the economic returns of being a veterinarian owner certainly do not meet the rigours of ownership. The days are long, there’s precious little time for family and even precious little money left over for the “extras”.

Are you ready and committed to making a positive change in your professional and personal life?

“Business Coaching” is a process where we sit down and talk about your business and personal life in order to bring rewards, balance and fulfillment into your life. Like the coach of a sport team, we work together in identifying your personal and business objectives, and in turn implement a program which meets your identified needs and requirements. We work together to identify your options, set priorities, and establish an action list which brings a desired balance between rewarding career and satisfying life style.

To begin this exciting and new life, we begin by examining your business results and then match these results to your expectations. We meet for a whole day to fully explore your desires and alternatives. We work with you to establish a realistic program, including specific action items to bring about change. More importantly, we work with you on a monthly basis to explore your experiences and measure the results.

Imagine “one on one” professional coaching to meet your specific objectives.

Imagine having a rewarding, balanced and fulfilling career and personal life.

Terry Jackson is a trained professional accountant and coach who bring thirty years experience working with veterinarians. He has seen how the best and the worst have operated. Most importantly, he works with you to achieve your desired objectives!

Non-business “Life” coaching is also available upon request.
